WOOD TO LEAD ARMENIAN ARMY

Cecil Committee Will Offer Him Command

NEED TWENTY MILLION

American Officer Will be Made High Commissioner For Republic—Think Force Can be Raised

Geneva, Nov. 30.—The command of the Armenian Expeditionary Force, proposed by Gen. Sir Frederick Morris to the special committee of the League of Nations, will be offered to Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, of the United States Army.

It is the unanimous agreement of the six members of the committee, of which Lord Robert Cecil is chairman, and which will select the commanding general, that Geenral Wood is the most likely candidate.

This committee was charged by the League Assembly with finding means to save Armenia. Lord Robert applied to responsible British quarters for the best available man to advise on Armenian affairs and Sir Frederick Morris was designated for this purpose. He, with General Weygand, was asked to report. His recommendation placed before the committee on Saturday, provides, among other things for an Armenian force directed by officers and noncommissioned officers of the Allied armies.

The proposal to make General Wood leader of the Armenian force is supported by Sir Frederick, who is designated as the committee's military adviser.

Under the plans as outlined to the committee, General Wood would be made high commissioner for Armenia and would occupy a position similar to that of Sir Reginald Tower toward Danzig. The League would instruct General Wood on the general Armenian policy, but otherwise leave him to act with a free hand. He would be asked to make Armenia strong enough to defend itself, but to restrain her from becoming too aggressive in her turn.

It is understood that the chief arguments advanced in the committee in favor of General Wood were that he is an excellent officer and that he is one of the few men of the necessary experience for such a post who is a doctor. One of the most difficult details of the Armenian problem is the question of health and sanitation, and it is felt that General Wood's experience will do much toward solving this question. In the present situation thousands of refugees have been driven together in districts with inadequate housing and

TO DEMAND LIVING WAGE FOR MINISTERS

Must Accord With Income Possible in Business, Say Methodist Bishops

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 30.—In a presentment drawn before adjournment of their semiannual meeting here today, the House of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, declared that a wage for a minister of the gosnel which will enable him to live and maintain his family at least as well as if he were engaged in every day business must be provided by the laity to meet a grave shortage of ministerial material. This presentment is to go to the head of every Methodist Episcopal congregation in the world, as the first step in a drive to create an adequate pastoral working force for the church throughout Christaindom.

Bishop Joseph Berry yesterday declared that the House of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church would not deal with the program outlined by the Lord's Day Alliance for a strict enforcement of Sunday "blue laws."

XMAS SEALS

The sale of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals is the only way by which the Virginia Tuberculosis Association is able to finance its fight against tuberculosis, and is one of the best methods by which local organizations affiliating with it may raise money for nurses, clinics and relief work among those suffering from the disease.

Though tuberculosis killed 3300 Virginia people last year, it is both preventable and curable, for the sale of these little Christmas seals spreads a doctrine of prevention and cure which has resulted in a reduction of 1190 deaths in Virginia in six years, and 3489 in ten years (there were 6816 deaths reported in 1909, 4515 deaths reported in 1914 and 3325 deaths in 1919.)

WOMEN FOR SCHOOL BOARD

New Voters Aspire to City Offices—League of Women Voters Discuss Questions

The regular monthly meeting of the League of Women Voters was held in Lee Camp Hall last night, with a good attendence.

A number of reports were received from committees appointed at a previous meeting, and several committees were held over for further work, particularly the one on Public Education, which embraces the sanitary conditions of the schools of the city.

Complaints have been made from time as to the condition of the Washington School and Lee School and recent visits to these buildings by members of the League have, it is alleged, disclosed anything but satisfactory sanitary arrangements, and members of the Public Education committee will shortly visit the city school board with a view to discussing a means of improving these buildings, and also to more fully acquaint themselves with the workings of the board.

A number of women are being urged to become candidates for membership on the school board, as vacancies occur, and as women are now eligible for municipal positions, it is claimed that they should work with the men, particularly on the school board.

The health of the children is of paramount importance, as bodily health is needed for mental health, and children kept in a building with an unhealthy atmosphere will be mentally sluggish.

All women of the city are urged by this organization to affiliate with the League, as their work is to study the state and city laws, to fit the women to become intelligent voters and take their place in the city government. While women claim that at present they are merely feeling their way, as it were, they will shortly become factors to be dealt with in city affairs.

FAKE LIQUOR LABEL PRINT SHOP RAIDED

New York, Nov. 30.—Seizure by secret service agents of a printing outfit, with thousands of counterfeit revenue stamps, liquor labels and illicit liquor paraphernalia, was made public yesterday when four men arrested Saturday night were arraigned on counterfeiting charges. Frank Bulzomi and Domenick Amirente and his sons Vincent and John each were held under $2,000 bail.

Bulzomi and John Amirente were arrested in a one room shop in a West Third street loft, where the agents said the men were busily printing counterfeit gin labels when they entered. The other two men were found in the Amirente home in Thompson street, where the officers also reported the discovery of more labels and quantities of imitation revenue stamps, bottles, corks and other articles.

The labels bore the names of various brands of liquors while the counterfeit stamps were printed with the names of large distilleries. The stamps purported to bear the guaranteed that the liquor had been bottled in bond.

The raids were directed by Capt. Nathaniel Connelly.

The last was on August 1, when his right arm and left wrist were amputated. His announcement in 1915 in the Academy of Medicine, of Paris, that he had extracted a shrapnel bullet from the heart of a soldier was read with interest throughout the world.

MIGHT AS WELL MOVE

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Every pickpocket in Chicago is to be arrested every 24 hours, or rearrested as fast as he obtains his liberty, under orders issued yesterday by Charles Fitzmorris, general superintendent of police. The new plan is the chief's latest step in a drive against known criminals.

Each time a pickpocket is arrested on suspicion the station making the arrest, according to Chief Fitzmorris' order, will follow the case through the courts and if the prisoner is freed he will be rearrested within one day.

RAIL MEN ASK FOR OLD ARBITRATION BOARDS

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Unable to reach an agreement with railroad owners regarding appointment of boards to interpret national agreements entered into between the government and railroad employes shortly before the roads were returned to their owners, leaders of rail unions yesterday appeared before the United States Railroad Labor board in an effort to have the old board re-established.

Headed by Bert M. Jewell, president of the railroad emnloyes' department of the American Federation of Labor they planned to ask that the national adjustment boards 1, 2, and 3, now passing on grievances under old agreements, be empowered to interpret the new agreements.

The new national agreements were made following many months of conferences and detail work between union and government officials. Under the Esch-Cummins law the agreements were made binding on the railroad owners. They were to be interpreted by the board agreed upon by both sides.

Two Meetings

Y. M. C. A. to Hold One for Men and One for Women Sunday Afternoon

Two meetings will be held by the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon—one at the Richmond for men only and one at the Ingomar for women only. Both meetings will be addressed by the Rev. R. B. Nelson, Acting Director of the State Social Hygiene Bureau.

The first meeting at the Richmon for men only will be held at 2:30 in the afternoon—a half hour earlier than the previous meetings for men that have been held for several weeks at this theatre. This is in order that Mr. Nelson may get to the Ingomar to address the women at 3:30.

Mr. Nelson will take for his subject to the men, "Social Hygiene," and will handle the subject without gloves. He is an ordained priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church and accepted the temporary place at the head of the social hygiene with the understanding that he could put the religious side to his hygienic work.

The meeting at the Ingomar a hour later will be in charge of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. and the subject of the address will be "Sex Education." The meeting will be for women only and Mr. Nelson will talk frankly to those present on this subject that is of such vital importance. Tickets for the two meetings are out and are now being distributed.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my little son, MELVIN E. HUMPHRIES, who left us so suddenly six years ago today.

The loss is bitter, the pain severe
To part with one we loved so dear
Each year in fancy I have seen him grow,
Each year I have wanted him more, more,
until ever near me,
Though, unseen, his dear immortal spirit treads for me,
The boundless universe is life—
there are no dead.

POLICE CAUGHT IN AMBUSH-15 KILLED

Between 70 and 100 Sinn Feiners Trap Cadets

GALLERY CLOSED

House of Commons Has Extra Guard—Liverpool Under Guard—Heavy Damage by Fires Saturday

Dublin, Nov. 30.—Fifteen auxiliary police cadets were killed and one cadet mortally wounded as the result of an ambush by between 70 and 100 men near Kilmichael, southwest of Macroom, County Cork, last evening. Another of the cadets is missing.

The cadets, under District Inspector Crake, were patrolling in two lorries when they were ambushed.

American "gunmen" are said to have made their appearance in Londonderry, Ireland, according to advices received here today. The presence of these mercenaries here and in other Irish cities have previously been reported. The military authorities of Londonderry are taking all precautions in the event of attempted assassinations.

A number of military officers at Londonderry have received typewritten documents threatening them with a fate similar to that suffered by the British officers murdered in Dublin unless they leave Ireland. The military forces are taking precautions to protect the threatened officers.

London, Nov. 30.—The public galleries of the House of Commons were closed yesterday afternoon and the approaches to the houses of Parliament guarded by extra police, as a precaution against possible untoward incidents following the disclosure of an alleged Sinn Fein conspiracy for operations in England.

Edward Shortt, the Home Secretary, declared in the House of Commons this afternoon, in reply to questions regarding Saturday night's incendiary dock fires in Liverpool, that there seemed no doubt that the fires were the result of an organized conspiracy in which members of the Sinn Fein party were engaged.

The latest Sinn Fein developments in England were discussed at an important conference this afternoon at No. 10 Downing street, the official residence of Premier Lloyd George, between members of the Government and the heads of the police organizations.

The conferees included the Premier Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for War; Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland; Speaker Lowther, of the House of Commons, and the heads of the Metropolitan Police and Scotland Yard.

Liverpool, Nov. 30.—The Liverpool police force was busily engaged yesterday rounding up men suspects of having played a part Saturday night's great conspiracy of incendiarism, in which the Government claims members of the Sinn Fein were engaged. The guards in the affected parts of the city have been strengthened, and the situation today appeared to be well in hand.

Several men already have been arrested, one of them charged with having shot and killed a civilian bystander while the police were trying to arrest the accused, who, they assert, had a hand in the warehouse burnings.

The police are working under a tremendous strain, owing to the influx of deeperadoes, some of whom are said to be American "gunmen," whose exact mission is not known, but whose presence the police believe has an obvious explanation. The entire police is exerting the greatest activity in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the fires and possible attempts at assassinations.

The damage to property in Saturday's fires will total hundreds of thousands of pounds.

SHIPPING PROBLEM

During the war the building and operation of ships was purely a military matter. We had to build the ships, no matter what they cost, and there was military use for all the ships we could get, and more than that. With the cessation of the war the problem has become purely commercial. The only question of any consequence is whether we can find remunerative employment for the ships, and whether we can meet foreign competition.

The economic aspects of the matter are persistently ignored by persons who clamor for a great American merchant marine, and who imagine that in some way the sentiment of patriotism is involved. The reasons we as a nation retired from the shipping business are constantly ignored, and the history of our merchant shipping is habitually misrepresented.

We left the sea over 60 years ago because our enormous domain, greatly expanded by the Mexican war and the application of steam to land transportation, enabled us to get bigger wages and higher returns on capital ashore than the sea afforded. We were never driven from the sea we left it for more profitable business, and we left it to nations that had limited territory, and no vast mineral resources, and which used the sea because there was insufficient employment on land.

The war being over, we are faced by the same facts that controlled our commercial development from about 1855 to 1914. If foreign ships are offered for sale at $65 per gross ton it is useless for us to hold our war built merchant fleet at $185 per deadweight ton, which is less than its cost. The first cost, however, is far from being all. The cost of operating our vessels has long been higher than the cost of operating vessels under foreign flags. During the war most of this difference appeared to have been overcome. Costs of construction and operation aboard increased, and the demand for shipping was keen at any freight charges, and it looked at the moment as if we could compete on tolerably even terms. But with the return to peace conditions we find the odds against us pretty much as they used to be.

Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, is making an appeal to the officers and crews of our merchant steamers for greater economy and efficiency. This is important, but it is not likely to be decisive. In competition with foreign shipping more cheaply built and operated at less cost, we are at a disadvantage which is not likely to be overcome by the remedial measures sought by the Admiral. He says:

There has been a serious lessening in ocean freight movement, with consequent tying up of Shipping Board and many privately owned vessels. Foreign competition, which our merchant marine must face, has become keen.

The shipping business is not, in normal times, highly remunerative. With exceptional periods of prosperity, the world's shipbuilding has generally been overdone. Freight rates have been reduced. Profits have been low, and it has not been uncommon for 1,000,000 tons of shipping to be tied up in British ports. France has spent money lavishly for bounties and subsidies and has been constantly complaining of unsatisfactory results. Our war-built ships are worth only what they will bring in the ports of the world, and our wages have got to be high or we can't tempt men to leave the land and go to sea.

We have got to eliminate the sentiment about the "flag upon all the seas" and treat this business as a business.

HINDU IS SHOCKED AT WASHINGTON DRESSES

Washington, Nov. 30.—American women, particularly those in Washington, dress far more immodestly than the half-clad bejeweled women of the Eastern harem, according to the Rev. A. H. Williams, of Rangoon, India, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. Carolyn Votaw, sister of President-elect Harding, in an interview here yesterday.

"In the Far East decollete is reserved for the harem," said Mr. Williams, "but in Washington it is the habit of the streets. Indeed, the scant clothes, fancy high heels, and earrings after the manner of the harem, seem to be the ideal of the American woman in dress."

WILSON TO LIVE IN CAPITAL

Understood He Will Devote His Time To Writing

Washington, Nov. 30.—Although it has been generally understood that President Wilson, after he leaves the White House on March 4, will devote his time to writing, this fact became known today with a degree of finality. It also became known that Mr. Wilson will make his home in Washington, but thus far he has not obtained a residence.

Joseph P. Tumulty, the President's secretary, also plans to remain in Washington after March 4 and he intends to write some books about the President, with whom he has been associated for the past 10 years. Mr. Tumulty has been offered a place on the Customs Court of Appeals, but he has reached no decision as to accepting the appointment.

Nitre Cocktail Now Takes Place of Old Favorites

Boston, Nov. 30.—Nitre cocktails as a substitute for the once popular Bronx have come into favor since the advent of prohibition, according to information given out today by William S. Briry, director of registration in the State Department of Drug Control.

He said the department had noticed a tremendous increase in the sale of sweet spirits of nitre and had found that the drug was being used as a substitute for liquor "among the better classes." He called attention to the danger in the practice, as the drug contains alcohol, sodium nitrate and sulphuric acid, which is a solvent of metals.

Bavaria To Fight Bolshevism With Beer.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—"Beer versus Bolshevism." That is the situation in Bavaria. Just as the hard winter is setting in, with a lack of fuel and a shortage of food, the Bavarian Government is permitting the brewing of 8 per cent. beer, which is the prewar quality.

One result of this ruling is that the Bavarian burghers will be able to keep their inside towers, though beer exteriors may be cold. Another is that contented stomachs will make for contented minds and the discontent fostered by the Bolshevist elements will wane. Some say that full strength beer will help to restore the Bavarian monarchy.

Farmer Finds $300,000 Loot In Corn Shock

Danville, Va., Nov. 30.—Officials of the Bank of Halifax this afternoon were started for the farm town of Midway in Pittsylvania County where on Saturday evening Guy Lampkin, 30 years old, a farmer, recovered Liberty bonds, war savings stamps and insurance policies aggregating $300,000 stolen from the bank.

Lampkin was preparing to shuck corn and was in a field bordering the road lifting the shucks into the wagon.

As he removed one of them an enameled drawer, taken evidently from a bank vault, fell out, strewing papers about the field. Investigating more closely the young man amazed to find a big fortune in negotiable instruments.

He stopped work, went home, and called in neighbors who assisted him sorting out the papers. He notified the authorities promptly.

About $250,000 in Liberty bonds and war savings stamps were accounted for. The corn shock hiding the loot had been standing three months and was that nearest the new road which leads to Lynchburg.

It is thought that the robbers, after robbing the Halifax bank, cut through little known roads to strike this road and on nearing Midway decided to hide the bonds and life insurance policies which might give them away. At the Bank of Gretna it was said today that there is no doubt that most of the bonds belonged to the Halifax bank. This was indicated by the insurance policies and cashier signatures. That the plunder was never removed leads to the belief that the bank robbers are behind bars.

BILLBOARD FOES USE FIRE

Shack of Detectives Guarding Obnoxious Sign is Burned

New York, Nov. 30.—Detectives guarding the battered Broadway bill board, which punitive expeditions of Bronx nature-lovers recently attacked on two occasions, saw their nearby abode go up in smoke today, but firemen saved the advertising sign after the flames had spread to it.

One of the two detectives billeted in the shack went off to get some dinner, and the other strayed away for some firewood. When they returned the hut was burning.

Neighbors, who have protested the presence of the billboard, rushed to the fire. Unanimously, they expressed the belief that its origin was accidental.

CHALONER THEATER

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 30.—Judging from the attendance at the opening performance of "The Merrie Mills" movie theater, John Armstrong Chaloner's project to make life in the country more attractive for farmers their wives, children and help, promises to be a success.

Programs previously posted announcing the opening gave promise of an unusually large attendance, and if seats were not available to accommodate the crowd all at one time the pictures would be repeated so no one would go home disappointed. The rain, however, kept away those from a distance, but the people of the Cobham and Cismont neighborhood were brave enough to face the storm and seventy attended—men, women and children—all of whom were delighted with the show, which included a feature play of eight reels, two reels of comedy and one reel of cartoons.

Miss Nora Johnson, of Cismont organist of Grace Episcopal Church performed on the piano during the performance. Mr. Chaloner was not present because he was scheduled to lecture on "Lunacy Law Reform" at the Cort Theater, Broadway, New York, Sunday night.

These entertainments will be given every Saturday night for white people and every Wednesday night for colored people, and are entirely free

DIAMOND MILL A FAILURE

Alleged Discovery of German Proving Impractical is Abandoned

New York, Nov. 30.—The latest effort of scientists to manufacture genuine diamonds has resulted in failure according to an announcement tods by William I. Rosenfeld, vice president of the American Jewelers' Protective Association and director of the Jewelers' Vigilance Committee.

The committee, he said, has made an exhaustive investigation of the reported discovery of a diamond-making formula by ya German scientist, and is now convinced that the formula will not produce gems equal to nature's product. Rosenfeld said that the vigilance organization today received a report from abroad indicating that a company in Berlin which had undertaken the manufactube of diamonds had ceased operation and cancelled its contract with the scientiest who discovered the formula.

Report of the alleged discovery several weeks ago, Rosenfeld said, startled the jewelry and precious stone trade throughout the world, and if proved true would have revolutionized the precious stone industry.

Federal Judge Denounces Standard Scale of Wages

Boston, Nov. 30.—Fundamental changes in the administration of the nation's railways were urged yesterday by Federal Judge George W. Anderson in an address at a conference called by the joint New England Commission on Foreign and Domestic Commerce to take steps toward united action to induce the Interstate Commerce Commission to "save the railroads and industries from ruination," threatened by the alleged financial condition of the roads.

Judge Anderson denounced "the absurd scheme of paying the same scale of wages all over the country, regardless of living conditions and of the amount of work required, to all men holding a job carrying the same name. He urged that standard wages be abandoned "in the interests of the workingmen themselves," and characterized as absurd the labor unions' proposal to secure a standardization of working conditions.

"Labor must alter its policy in this matter," he said, "or the public must compel the Railroad Labor Board to alter it. It is a menace to the public interests.

New York City Official Accused of Giving Bribe

New York, Nov. 30.—Joseph A. Solovei, an Assistant Corporation Counsel of the city of New York, was arrested late yesterday on a charge of having given a $500 bribe to a special internal revenue agent in a liquor case.

It was alleged he had given the agent, Frank J. Sieb, the money to influence him in the cases of Benjamin and Albert Gross, Brooklyn brokers, who also were arrested this afternoon and charged with conspiring to violate the Volstead act by using forged rubber stamps bearing the names of Charles R. O'Conner, State Prohibition Director, and of the Connecticut Prohibition Director on false permits for withdrawals of liquor.

When arraigned before United States Commissioner Hitchcock Solovei and the Gross brothers were held in $2,500 bail each for a hearing Saturday. The three men furnished bail and were released.

Counsel for Solovei said his client told him he had been "framed up."

WOMAN WED TWICE AFTER SHE HAD LAIN IN GRAVE

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 30.—Fifty-nine years ago, Mrs. Martha Ann Pruett, then a young unmarried woman living in Swain county, N. C., was visiting relatives near here when she was taken ill. After several days she was pronounced dead. With mourners gathering, the body was placed in the grave, but when a relative suggested that one more examination should be made to see if she was really dead, it was found that she still lived. A physician was summoned and the dead woman aroused and in a few weeks she was healthy and strong again.

She said, that she could hear the undertakers preparing the coffin, but was unable to speak. Yesterday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock, Mrs. Martha Ann Pruett, aged 76 years, died at the home of her son, W. S. Buchanan, near Woodside Mill, death being due to a stroke of paralysis she suffered about two months ago. It was her second death.

Relatives of Mrs. Pruett said that they had heard her relate the experience of her first death many times. Hers was also the experience of marrying twice and having six children, four of whom are still living, after all arrangements had been made 50 years ago for interring her body.

PLAN WORKED OUT TO STOP HARD COAL PRICE BOOSTING

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—Anthracite operators and members of the Fair Practice Committee recently appointed for the anthracite industry, and with whom the Department of Justice is co-operating, held a conference here yesterday, at which complete co-operation with the committee's work was tendered by the representatives of the producers.

"Through the co-operation of producers, the extreme peak of mine prices has been substantially lowered.

"Undue charges upon coal after it leaves the mine and before it gets to the retailers' yards are being held in check by the committee and the producers through the resolution adopted by the committee that there shall be but one wholesaler's profit between the producer and the retail dealer, and that, where the producer does not sell direct to the dealer, the total of such profit shall in no case exceed 8 per cent of the mine price."

Norfolk's Streets Flooded; Trolley Service is Stopped

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 30.—High tide backed by a northeast gale, flooded the business section of Norfolk yesterday morning, putting City Hall Avenue, on which is located the Monticello and Fairfax Hotels, under two feet of water. Other streets were inundated and street car and jitney service was suspended for several hours. The water receded in six hours, but more damage is expected with the next incoming tide.

Heavy seas are threatening the bulkheads at Ocean View and workmen are busily engaged in making repairs as fast as breaks appear. The extent of the damage will not be known until the high water recedes, but it will be serious if the bulkhead gives away, as it did last spring during a heavy storm along the Eastern coast.

As the result of the flood, hotels in the business section of Norfolk at night were using kerosene lamps and candles for illumination, their power plants in the basements having been put out of commission temporarily.

High tide swept over the sea walls at Ghent, the heart of Norfolk's residential section, cutting off street car service and practically marooning half the population of the city.

Shipping in the Hampton Roads district virtually was at a standstill Sunday because of the storm. Only one ship entered port yesterday, and none departed. While none of the vessels in the harbor was damaged during the storm, many of them were in constant danger from dragging anchors.

Next "First Lady" Takes Thrilling Ride Over Limon Bay in Seaplane

Colon, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Harding, wife of the President-elect, has long had a reputation for viewing things from all angles before forming an opinion. Which may or may not account for the fact that before packing her trunks and leaving here for home again, she went up in a seaplane and is now the proud possessor of several birdseye views of Limon Bay personally observed from the flying machine.

The trip, taken Saturday, was "beautiful and exciting and everything," and while prospective Presidents are forbidden the thrills of risky ventures like sky-planing, nevertheless Senator Harding carries back with him a vivid picture of the bay from the air, recounted by Mrs. Harding.

Several others in the party also flew over the canal, but their experiences suffered in the telling as compared with those of the next "first lady."

Promptly at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon all trunks were packed and all the party on hand, ready and not a little eager to start back on the trip home.

EX-KAISERIN GROWS WORSE

Condition Undergoes Change Late In Day, Says Doorn Dispatch

Doorn, Holland, Nov. 30.—A turn for the worse in the condition of the former German empress, Augusta Victoria, occurred late yesterday, it was learned this evening.

WOOD TO HEAD ARMENIAN ARMY

sanitation. General Wood solved such a problem in Cuba and demonstrated his ability for organization.

All that is needed by the Cecil committee is sufficient money to begin the organization of the Armenian force. If a guarantee of $20,000,000 is forthcoming, the appointment of General Wood as High Commissioner, if he should decide to accept it, may only be a question of days. In case of his acceptance he would be asked to assume his duties immediately.

It is understood that General Morris, in his report to the Cecil committee, does not agree to the proposal submitted by the Armenians who asked that the Allies should land an expeditionary force at Ezeroum and advance from there into the interior. They desire to hold Ezeroum as an outlet to the sea under the same conditions as the Poles hold Danzig.

General Morris says that the Cecil committee on Armenian affairs has appealed to the American Government as well as other possible sources for the financing of the Armenian expedition. It is hoped that a definite promise of money will be received before the committee is called upon to report to the Assembly of the League.

Although a guarantee of $20,000,000 is necessary, $4,000,000 is considered sufficient to begin operations with and to start the dispersion of officers and munitions for Armenia.

General Morris said that the commission believes that sufficient volunteers could be obtained immediately if needed, but it would not be necessary or desirable to have the entire volunteer contingent available at the present time.

Despite the reported acceptance of Denmark of the position of mediator for Armenia, it is hoped in high English quarters that America will step forward and take the lead, if not the entire responsibility of mediation. If America is willing to mediate, Denmark doubtless would offer to help or would express the wish to withdraw.

General Wood then would be appointed high commissioner and his rights to act as he and the American Government considered best would be recognized. All differences of opinion in the League would be settled if America accepted both the French project for mediation and the English proposal to arm the indigent Armenian Army.

It is announced by the Council that any money advanced for this purpose would be looked upon as a loan to the future Armenian state.
